ABOUT
ACOG

ACOG

The American College of
Obstetricians and Gynecologists

With roots dating back to 1951, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists is the premier professional membership organization for obstetrician–gynecologists. The College's activities include producing practice guidelines for providers and educational materials for patients, providing practice management and career support, facilitating programs and initiatives aimed at improving women's health, and advocating on behalf of members and patients.

With more than 60,000 members spanning the entire career lifecycle, ACOG is composed of 12 Districts. These Districts are made up of 98 Sections. ACOG's Districts and Sections represent various regions, countries, territories, and states in North and South America.

ACOG members, or Fellows, are board certified obstetrician–gynecologists whose professional activities are devoted to the practice of obstetrics and/or gynecology, who possess unrestricted licenses to practice medicine, and who have attained high ethical and professional standing.
